How to use these hooks

A hook is the first one or two seconds of your video. Its only job is to make an IELTS candidate stop scrolling. Pick one, say it in your own words, then show GetYour9 doing the work on screen.

What you can show

- 1 Writing Task 1 checker: paste a report or letter, get a band estimate and feedback on each criterion.
- 2 Writing Task 2 checker: paste an essay and see the sentence or idea holding your band back.
- 3 Real-time AI examiner: a live voice conversation for Speaking Parts 1, 2 and 3.
- 4 Speaking feedback on fluency, vocabulary, filler words and pauses.
- 5 Progress tracking across Speaking, Writing, Reading and Listening.

Keep it honest

- 1 Band scores from GetYour9 are estimates. Never promise a specific band or a guaranteed result.
- 2 Show your real answers and your real feedback. Do not stage results.
- 3 GetYour9 is not the official IELTS test. Do not say it is.
- 4 Disclose the partnership: add #ad or use the platform's paid-partnership label.

Questions

Open with a question your viewer is already asking.

- 1 Do you actually know your IELTS band right now, or are you guessing?
- 2 Why do you keep getting a 6.5 when you feel like a 7?
- 3 If you knew exactly which criterion was dragging your band down, what would you practise tonight?
- 4 Want to know how IELTS examiners actually score your Writing?
- 5 Ever wondered why your Writing score is lower than your Speaking?
- 6 How many practice tests have you done without knowing what to fix?
- 7 What if the reason you're stuck at Band 6 has nothing to do with vocabulary?
- 8 How would your prep change if you knew your band before test day?
- 9 Are you sure you're practising the right things for IELTS?
- 10 Are you sure your Task 2 essay is actually answering the question?
- 11 How much money have you spent retaking IELTS?
- 12 How many times have you paid for the exam and missed your band by 0.5?
- 13 Why do two people with the same English level get completely different IELTS scores?

Questions, continued

- 14 Have you ever had a real examiner listen to your Speaking before the test?
- 15 What's stopping you from writing one Task 2 essay today?
- 16 What would change if you checked your band today instead of the week before the exam?
- 17 Are you sure the problem is your grammar?
- 18 If you weren't scared of speaking out loud, how fast would your score go up?

Provocation

Challenge what everyone believes.

- 1 Stop memorising fancy words. They're not getting you a 7.
- 2 Most people prepare for IELTS completely wrong.
- 3 Think you can't know your band until results day? You can get a lot closer than you think.
- 4 Nobody cares about your 'In conclusion' if your essay doesn't answer the question.
- 5 Some people already know which criterion is holding them back. Do you?
- 6 Still waiting to 'feel ready' before booking your test?
- 7 The worst thing you can do before IELTS: do practice tests and never get feedback.

Provocation, continued

- 8 The most expensive mistake IELTS candidates make: retaking without changing anything.
- 9 Still think you just need more practice tests?
- 10 Stop blaming your accent. That's not what's holding your Speaking back.
- 11 You don't need another IELTS YouTube playlist. You need feedback on your own answers.
- 12 While you're still watching tips, other candidates are practising Speaking out loud.
- 13 Stop saying "I don't have time" to practise IELTS. One essay takes 40 minutes.

Fears

Name the worry, then show the way out.

- 1 Know that feeling when you study for months and still don't know if you'll get your band?
- 2 Tired of starting IELTS prep over and over?
- 3 Scared your mind will go blank in the Speaking test?
- 4 Think it's too late to raise your band before your test date? It's not, yet.
- 5 What if you get your results and you're 0.5 short again?
- 6 Can't decide if you're ready to book the exam? Watch this first.

Fears, continued

- 7 Know what it feels like to miss your visa deadline because of one band score?
- 8 Frustrated that your Writing score won't move no matter what you do?
- 9 Scared of talking to a real examiner? Practise with one that never judges you.
- 10 Tired of writing an essay and having nobody to check it?
- 11 What if in two months you're still stuck at the same band?
- 12 You've done every practice test, but still have no idea what you'd actually score?

Mistakes

Show what to avoid.

- 1 3 IELTS Writing mistakes that keep you at Band 6.
- 2 This is how you're losing marks in Speaking without noticing.
- 3 Never book your IELTS exam before you check this.
- 4 Never retake IELTS without knowing exactly why you missed your band.
- 5 Mistake #1 that costs people a retake.
- 6 Here's why all your IELTS practice isn't paying off.

Mistakes, continued

- 7 It's a small thing, but it can sink your Speaking score: your filler words.
- 8 It's a small thing, but it can sink your Task 2: your first paragraph.
- 9 The mistake even fluent English speakers make on IELTS.
- 10 I see it every time: people losing half a band over small things.
- 11 Only practising Reading and Listening? Don't be surprised by your overall band.
- 12 The biggest IELTS mistake nobody warns you about.
- 13 Using every 'advanced' word you know? It might be lowering your score.
- 14 Mistake #1 when aiming for Band 7.
- 15 Writing your Task 1 like this? Don't expect more than a 6.

Insights

Share what most people never hear.

- 1 Nobody talks about this: IELTS Writing is scored on four criteria, not one.
- 2 Why does almost nobody tell you how your essay is actually marked?
- 3 Turns out, to know your weak point in Writing, you just need one essay and a few minutes.

Insights, continued

- 4 The truth nobody tells you when you start preparing for IELTS.
- 5 Knowing this will save you months of IELTS prep.
- 6 When I saw which criterion was pulling my band down, everything changed.
- 7 Want a shortcut to knowing what to fix in your Writing?
- 8 What IELTS examiners wish every candidate knew.
- 9 A small thing about Speaking Part 2 with a huge effect.
- 10 This is what was missing from your IELTS prep.
- 11 This works for Task 1 and Task 2.
- 12 In IELTS Speaking, one thing matters more than you think, and it's not your accent.
- 13 To get a 7, stop trying to sound like a textbook.

Tips

Give one thing they can use today.

- 1 One trick to stop going blank in Speaking Part 2.
- 2 How to plan a Task 2 essay in 5 minutes.

Tips, continued

3 Do this before your next practice essay and your score will make sense.

4 The 3-step way to answer any Speaking Part 3 question.

5 How to describe a graph in Task 1 without repeating yourself.

6 Use this one sentence to open any Task 2 essay.

7 How to practise IELTS Speaking when you have no one to talk to.

8 Record yourself once and you'll hear exactly what an examiner hears.

9 How to find the one sentence holding your essay back.

10 Stop saying 'um'. Here's what to say instead.

11 How to write a Task 1 overview examiners actually want.

12 The fastest way to check if your essay is a 6 or a 7.

13 Do one timed essay a day for a week. Here's how to check each one.

Comparisons

Put two things side by side.

1 Band 6 essay vs Band 7 essay. Can you spot the difference?

2 Band 6 Speaking answer vs Band 8 Speaking answer, same question.

Comparisons, continued

- 3 Same idea, two sentences. One gets a 6, one gets a 7.
- 4 IELTS tutor vs AI feedback: what I learned trying both.
- 5 Doing 20 practice tests vs getting feedback on 5 essays.
- 6 Memorised answer vs natural answer. Examiners can tell.
- 7 What you think the examiner hears vs what they actually hear.
- 8 Task 1 Academic vs General Training: what actually changes.
- 9 Complex vocabulary vs precise vocabulary. Only one gets you marks.
- 10 Writing for 40 minutes vs planning for 5 and writing for 35.
- 11 My first essay vs my essay a month later.
- 12 Reading tips online vs practising out loud.
- 13 Long answer vs developed answer in Speaking. Not the same thing.
- 14 How I prepared for my first IELTS vs my retake.

Myths

Break something everyone repeats.

1 Myth: you need a British accent to get a high Speaking score.

2 Myth: longer essays get higher scores.

3 Myth: you can't improve your band in a month.

4 Myth: native-level vocabulary is the only way to a 7.

5 Myth: examiners mark you down for pausing to think.

6 Myth: practice tests alone will raise your score.

7 Myth: Task 1 doesn't matter much.

8 Myth: you should memorise answers for Speaking Part 1.

9 Myth: you can't practise Speaking without a partner.

10 Myth: if you're fluent in English, IELTS will be easy.

11 Myth: grammar mistakes automatically cap you at Band 6.

12 Myth: you'll only know your level when the results come out.

Urgency

Give them a reason to start now.

- 1 Your test is in 30 days. Here's what to do this week.
- 2 Booked your IELTS? Check your weakest skill before it's too late.
- 3 If your university deadline is this year, watch this today.
- 4 Every week you practise without feedback is a week you might repeat the same mistake.
- 5 Retake fees aren't cheap. Find your weak spot before you pay again.
- 6 Two weeks before the exam? This is the only thing I'd focus on.
- 7 Don't wait for results day to find out what went wrong.
- 8 Write one essay tonight and see where you really are.
- 9 Your visa timeline doesn't wait for a retake.
- 10 The night before IELTS: do this, not another practice test.

Real stories

Tell what happened to you or someone you know.

- 1 I got 6.5 three times. Here's what finally changed.
- 2 I thought my Writing was a 7. Then I saw the feedback.

- 3 My friend went from 6 to 7.5 in Speaking. This is what she did differently.
- 4 I practised Speaking with an AI examiner every night for two weeks. Here's what happened.
- 5 I almost lost my university offer because of half a band.
- 6 The day I realised I was answering the wrong question in Task 2.
- 7 I failed my band twice, and it wasn't my English.
- 8 What I wish I knew before my first IELTS exam.
- 9 I recorded my Speaking answers for the first time. It was painful, and it worked.
- 10 How I stopped panicking in Speaking Part 2.

Hard truth

Say what nobody wants to hear.

- 1 Hard truth: you're not stuck because IELTS is hard. You're stuck because nobody checks your work.
- 2 Your vocabulary isn't the problem. Your structure is.
- 3 Watching IELTS videos is not the same as practising IELTS.
- 4 If you can't explain why you got a 6, you'll probably get a 6 again.

- 5 Memorised answers sound memorised. Examiners notice.
- 6 Fluent English and a high IELTS score are not the same thing.
- 7 Retaking without changing your prep is just paying for the same result.
- 8 Your Task 1 is costing you more than you think.
- 9 Nobody is coming to grade your essays for you. You have to find the feedback.

Speaking

Hooks for Speaking Parts 1, 2 and 3.

- 1 This is how a Band 8 answers 'Do you work or study?'
- 2 Your Part 1 answers are too short. Here's the fix.
- 3 Part 2 cue card: how to talk for 2 minutes without running out of ideas.
- 4 What to do when you get a Part 2 topic you know nothing about.
- 5 Part 3 is where Band 7 is won or lost.
- 6 I practised Speaking with an AI examiner in real time. Here's my band.
- 7 Count how many times you say 'like' in this answer.

Speaking, continued

- 8 Pausing is fine. This kind of pausing is not.
- 9 How examiners hear fluency, and why it's not about speed.
- 10 Can you answer this Part 3 question for 45 seconds?
- 11 Practise IELTS Speaking out loud tonight, no partner needed.
- 12 Your pronunciation score isn't about your accent. Here's what it is about.
- 13 Answer this cue card with me. Then check your band.
- 14 The one Speaking habit that makes you sound less fluent than you are.

Writing Task 1

Hooks for graphs, charts, maps, processes and letters.

- 1 You have 20 minutes and a bar chart. Here's the plan.
- 2 The Task 1 overview most people forget, and lose marks for.
- 3 Stop describing every number in Task 1.
- 4 How to write about a process diagram without sounding robotic.
- 5 Maps in Task 1 scare everyone. They shouldn't.
- 6 I put my Task 1 report through a checker. Here's the feedback.

- 7 Line graph, 150 words, Band 7. Watch me write it.
- 8 General Training letter: formal or informal? Get this wrong and lose marks.
- 9 The 4 paragraphs every Task 1 answer needs.
- 10 Your Task 1 is only 150 words. That's why every sentence counts.

Writing Task 2

Hooks for essays: opinion, discussion, problem-solution.

- 1 Here's a Task 2 question. Can you plan it in 5 minutes?
- 2 Opinion essay vs discussion essay: most people mix them up.
- 3 I wrote a Task 2 essay and checked it against the four criteria. Here's what it flagged.
- 4 Your introduction should be two sentences. Here's why.
- 5 This one sentence is why your essay got a 6.
- 6 How to write a Task 2 body paragraph that examiners love.
- 7 Task Response is the criterion people ignore most.
- 8 Stop using 'Moreover' in every paragraph.

- 9 Problem - solution essay in 40 minutes. Watch me.
- 10 Your conclusion is repeating your introduction. That's a problem.
- 11 Same essay, before and after feedback.
- 12 Got a Task 2 topic you've never thought about? Do this.

Band jumps

Speak to people chasing one specific score.

- 1 Stuck at 6.5? This is what Band 7 looks like.
- 2 From 6 to 7: the three changes that matter most.
- 3 Need a 7 in every section? Start with your weakest one.
- 4 The difference between Band 7 and Band 8 is smaller than you think.
- 5 Why Writing is usually the last band to move.
- 6 Got 7.5 overall but a 6.5 in Writing? Here's why.
- 7 What a Band 9 Speaking answer actually sounds like.
- 8 Half a band is all you need. Here's where to find it.
- 9 If you need a 6.5 for your visa, watch this.

Band jumps, continued

- 10 Band 5.5 to 6.5 in a month: what's realistic and what isn't.

Goals

Tie IELTS to what they really want: study, work, a move abroad.

- 1 IELTS is the only thing between you and your university offer.
- 2 Moving to Canada? Your IELTS score decides more than you think.
- 3 Applying to a UK university? Check the band they actually need.
- 4 Your dream job abroad starts with one test.
- 5 Nurses, doctors, engineers: this is the band you need, and how to get it.
- 6 Australia needs your score by a deadline. Here's how I'd prepare.
- 7 Your scholarship has a minimum band. Do you know where you are?
- 8 Everyone around you is moving abroad. Here's how to stop putting off IELTS.
- 9 One exam, one score, and your whole plan depends on it.
- 10 Planning to study abroad next year? Start your IELTS prep today, not in summer.
